CD version of Siberian - Modern Age Mausoleum album. Digipack sleeve, comes with a digital download card.

SIBERIAN's debut album Modern Age Mausoleum is 40 minutes long and holds both a swedish rawness and a progressive mysticism that leads to an abyssal depth of eternal gloominess. Using a metallic edge the band transforms a cold swedish heritage of rage and frustration to an outburst over both society and mankind.

"I am highly impressed with Siberian's debut album – Modern Age Mausoleum. A stirring, brooding and hard-hitting debut album goes straight for the jugular." -Sludgelord

The album was recorded at Studio Underjord Norrköping Sweden. Engineered and mixed by Joona Hassinen and mastered by Niels Nielsen from Dead Soul. Hassinen has previously worked with Vanhelgd, Ocean Chief and Year of the Goat. The artwork is hand painted by Mattias Frisk who has previously worked with Ghost B.C, Maim and Night.
